

THE HOOK UP

Introduction

Hello everyone and welcome to The Hook Up. Before we begin, please take a moment to turn off all cell phones. Also, due to copyright issues, any audio or video recording of this program is strictly prohibited.

It should be noted that The Hook Up uses some strong language that may be considered provocative to some individuals. The language is not meant to offend, but mirror and comment on the way many people talk about sex. Please also note that sexual assault will be discussed in this program and that could be triggering for some people. Should you become uncomfortable, you are free to excuse yourself at any time.

_____ is a nationally touring presenter and educator. The show s/he's presenting incorporates scripted material with audience interaction. It is therefore important that you participate, but please do so only when the presenter goes to you, and be respectful of others when they do not. Thank you for your attention, and now please welcome, _____.